Kale ah maruhabaa, Welcome...

Waters of the clearest blue caressing powdery white sand beaches, sunken gardens of unbelievably colourful marine flora, and water villas second to none when it comes to tropical luxury all combine to create the perfect island paradise that is the Maldives. Consisting of 1,192 coral islands spread out across 26 ring-shaped atolls, the Maldives is an exotic necklace adorning the Indian Ocean and glistening in the equatorial sunshine. Mighty coral reefs teeming with marine life surround shallow blue lagoons that are ideal for swimming, snorkeling and watersports. Thanks to its unique geography and warm waters, the island nation is also a world-class diving mecca where water lovers can get up close and personal with manta rays, sea turtles, reef sharks and over a thousand different kinds of fish, including the largest which are the whale sharks. Renowned as one of the most romantic destinations in the world, the Maldives is home to extra luxurious resorts offering topflight amenities and unrivalled exclusivity. Every resort is nestled in its own private island, and choosing where to stay can be a quite a challenge since there are over a hundred private island resorts—all of them a taste of heaven on earth.
Introduction

Maldives Travel Connection is Australia’s newest travel specialist to the Maldives. We have a dedicated team of experienced consultants who know the Maldives by heart and regularly travel to the archipelago in order to provide current and personalised service.

At Maldives Travel Connection, we pride ourselves on the professional level of service that we provide our clients.

Our packages are all inclusive of return international airfares, transfers including shuttles, boats and domestic flights, accommodation, and tour options, leaving nothing to chance.

We offer a wide range of hand-picked accommodation options and tours.
Depending on the location and distance of your resort, transfers can be by speedboat, seaplane or domestic flight. Speedboat transfers are used for the nearer resorts, seaplane transfers are for the more distant ones, and domestic flights are for transfers to the outer atolls, taking guests to the numerous regional airports.

There are no direct flights from Australia, but several combinations with just one stop are possible. Most flights arrive at Malé International Airport, situated on its own island, a short doni or speedboat ride to the capital island, Malé.

We believe that our expertise makes the difference between a good and extraordinary holiday.

Our on-ground partners in Maldives are with you every step of the way offering 24/7 local assistance.

About the Maldives

Known officially as the Republic of the Maldives, the sovereign archipelagic nation of the Maldives is positioned in the Indian Ocean on top of a vast underwater mountain range. It comprises 26 natural atolls categorised into 20 administrative divisions, and only 200 of its 1,192 islands are inhabited, 100 of which are resorts. Incidentally, the Maldivian language has the distinct pleasure of contributing to the English the word "atoll", which was derived from the Maldivian word “atholhu". Channels of various sizes between the atolls are used for navigation. The pearl-string-like islands of the Maldives cover a land area of no less than 292 km². These are all protected by a reef structure and encircled by a lagoon blessed with crystal clear waters where some of the world’s most exclusive and spectacular marine life is found.

Passports & Visas

Australian passport holders do not currently require a visa for a stay as a tourist of up to 30 days but must hold a passport with six months validity from date of entry to the Maldives.

If you are a non-Australian passport holder, please check your visa requirements with the appropriate Embassy or Consular office.

Currency

The local currency is the Rupee (MR: 1MR = 0.08 USD) and Laaree, but US Dollars and credit cards are used in most resorts, restaurants and other tourist establishments. We do recommend you carry some local currency for smaller purchases.

Language

Dhivehi is the official and common language in the Maldives, but English is widely used in government offices, resorts and tourist areas.

Pricing & Seasonality

The Maldives enjoy a warm tropical climate year-round, with temperatures ranging between 23°C and 32°C. The high season runs from December to March, when the north-east monsoon brings drier weather and clear skies. During these months, humidity is slightly lower and there’s a cooling sea breeze most days. Unsurprisingly, Christmas and New Year are the most expensive time to travel.

The south-west monsoon lasts from May to September. It’s wetter, with occasional strong winds but the downpours tend to be short—they’re usually over in 15 minutes—and the sun quickly reappears to dry the ground. If you’re a keen diver, the marine life tends to be at its best from January to April. April is also considered a ‘shoulder’ period, and therefore prices are lower.

Seasonal surcharges, supplements, compulsory meals and/or transfers may apply during high season or at particular properties.

Tips From The Team

From lazing around the beach to braving the deep to explore shipwrecks and swim with manta rays and whale sharks, there is definitely something for everyone in the 1,192 islands of the Maldives.

ELECTRICITY: 240 volts
TIMEZONE: GMT +5
RESTRICTIONS: Alcohol may not be imported into the Maldives, however can be purchased at resorts.
Flights from Sydney take about 12 hours and 30 minutes and are all received in the Malé International Airport, situated on Hulhule Island. Malé, the bustling island capital of the Maldives, is just a short ride away by dhoni or speedboat from the airport. Depending on the distance, transfers to the island resorts are often by dhoni, speedboat and seaplane. For resorts located in the outer atolls, transfer is by domestic flight to the numerous domestic airports serving the archipelago.
The North Malé Atoll is the most visited of the 26 stunning atolls that make up the Maldives. Malé, the island capital of the Maldives, is situated on the southern end of the atoll, a short dhoni or speedboat ride from the Malé International Airport (Velana International Airport), one of the tropical nation’s international airports located on Hulhule Island. Beautiful white sand beaches, superb dive sites highlighted by colourful corals and deep wrecks, and the high concentration of resorts, hotels and restaurants make North Malé Atoll a favourite among first-time visitors. Surfing is also a major draw, specially from April to August when the atoll’s waves are at their best. Intermediate and advanced surfers take their pick from the great range of left and right reef breaks found in the atoll, including the well-known Pasta Point and Lohis.

Our Must Dos in North Malé Atoll

- Admire the elaborate script and decoration chiselled into the coral stone structure of the Old Friday Mosque in Male the Capital, the oldest mosque in the country built in 1656.
- Learn something of the island’s history through the artefacts in the National Museum in Male the Capital.
- Plunge into Maldives’ astounding underwater world at the protected marine area of Banana Reef, the first dive site discovered in the archipelago and one of the most popular.
- Check out the black coral trees that fill the 25-metre deep cave at Kuda Haa’s northern end.
- Brave the deep and marvel at the coral-encrusted wrecks of SS Seagull, Erlangen and Lady Christine hidden on the reefs of Gaafaru Falhu.
- Swim with the majestic manta rays of Manta Point.
- See the Maldives Victory Wreck, the remains of the 328-ft long Singaporean cargo ship that sunk in 1981.
Nestled in the stunning Meerufenfushi Island, Meeru Island Resort & Spa is a tropical paradise of white sandy beaches and coconut palm trees, encircled by warm, crystal waters of a turquoise lagoon. A 55-minute scenic speedboat transfer brings guests to the resort where 284 well-appointed beach-front and overwater villas await, as well as two buffet restaurants, six bars, and various entertainment and sports facilities.

SOUTH MALÉ ATOLL

Like its northern counterpart, the South Malé Atoll is replete with diving points, surf breaks and sugary beaches that are a delight all year. What pulls in people to the southern half of the Malé Atoll though is its relatively more tranquil atmosphere. Cross the channel of Vaadhoo Kandu to the South Malé Atoll and see how it is different from its busy neighbour. Only three of its islands are inhabited and the populations are relatively small, but that is not to say adventure and fun do not wait at South Male at every turn. Maafushi Island, the capital of the South Malé Atoll, offers plenty of dining choices and a wide range of accommodation options, from 5-star luxury resort hotels to charming local guest houses.

Our Must-Dos in South Malé Atoll

- Enjoy a drink on a floating bar outside Mafushi’s harbour.
- Laze around Bikini Beach and see the spectacular sunset.
- Swim with reef sharks, turtles, rays and napoleons that lurk in Cocoa Corner, a popular drift dive.
- Cross to Felidhu Atoll and witness traditional boat-building on one of the islands.
- Mingle with the big schools of batfish, sweetlips, lionfish, and long-jawed squirrelfish that reside in Guiradhoo Corner.
- Venture into the huge Kadooma Caves where giant morays can be found.
- Go on a night dive and explore the Kuda Giri wreck, an intact steel wreck of an unknown cargo boat. Bring a torch and look inside the cargo hold at the hull’s back.
- Get up close and personal with the stingrays of Velassaru Caves.
Fihalhohi Island Resort

Come to Fihalhohi Island Resort where captivating views of the Indian Ocean and the natural beauty of a tropical island are the constant setting. Nestled at the southwestern rim of the atoll, this fantastic beachfront property features palm-thatched roofs and a private terrace overlooking the island’s terrain. A great selection of leisure activities and dining options awaits visitors at the resort, including a spa and dive centre.

OTHER ATOLLS

Aside from Malé, Baa and Ari Atolls, the Maldives holds tons of adventures and discoveries in store in its other lesser-known but equally magnificent atolls.

- Noonu Atoll boasts four exceptional resorts in its 13 inhabited islands, all with virtually exclusive access to dive sites located within the propose Edu Faru National Marine Park.
- Raa Atoll is a pristine paradise with only a handful of resorts. Ugoofaru, the capital island, is home to the largest fishing fleets in the Maldives while Alifushi island is where one can find the best traditional dhoni builders in the archipelago. There’s also Hani Kandu, the channel between Raa and Baa Atolls, which offers great diving spots on both sides and where magnificent manta rays are an everyday sight in October and November.
- Home to the world-class Six Senses Laamu Resort, the barrier-rimmed Laamu Atoll is as historic as it is breathtaking. Several islands on its eastern reef contain important archaeological sites such as the remains of stupas, viharas and monasteries as well as copperplates of the most ancient Maldivian writings, holding accounts related to the conversion to Islam, the destruction of Buddhist temples and monuments and the construction of mosques.
- Although it sits remotely from Malé, the Gaafu Dhaalu Atoll attracts its own kind of visitors. Surfers seek out this isolated slice of paradise for its uncrowded waves that break around the entrances to the channel.
- Dhaalu Atoll is a tempting destination for those who want to experience excellent snorkelling and diving in a quiet corner of the country. The northern islands of Ribudhoo and Hulhudheli are also famous for their goldsmiths and silversmiths who, rumour has it, learned the craft centuries ago from a sultan’s banished royal jeweller.
- Known as the most southern point of the country, the heart-shaped Addu Atoll offers superb diving opportunities for both beginners and experienced divers. The atoll is believed to be the only area not affected by the global coral bleaching in 1998, and manta rays can be found in its waters year round. Don’t miss the 134-metre long “British Loyalty”, the largest shipwreck in the Maldives, and the fabled “Shark Hotel” where 15 to 20 grey reef sharks swim around at any given time.
The Soneva story continues with Soneva Jani, the brand’s newest luxury resort, which encompasses a collection of 24 overwater villas and one island villa set in a 5.6 kilometre private lagoon. The resort spans five islands surrounded by pure white beaches, covered in rich tropical vegetation, offering the ultimate in privacy and luxury.

The island capital of the Maldives is a fascinating pint-sized city where one can immerse in the busy mercantile side of the archipelago.
